Voter apathy biggest worry

With election day staring them in the face next Tuesday, a number of people in the Glades and on the coast have expressed concern about getting the vote out.

One bell-ringer of an idea may have been substituted for another in Belle Glade.

State Rep. Tom Lewis (R-North Palm Beach) sent a telegram to every municipality in the county urging that all fire sirens or fire engine bells be rung every hour on the hour to remind people to vote.

The Herald was informed the Belle Glade Fire Department can't go along with that idea because it could lead to a situation of "crying wolf."

But an alternative plan was offered when churches in the area were requested to ring their church bells or carillons each hour.

At least one minister in town said he would be sounding the bells at his church.

But the reminders to vote needn't all be hard on the ears, nor were they confined to one party.

Palm Beach County Democratic Executive Committee Chairman Harry Lee Anstead is asking everyone to vote and then turn on their automobile headlights once they leave the polling places as a reminder to others.

"We want everybody to vote on election day, regardless of party affiliation," he said. "By turning on their headlights after you have voted on Nov. 5, you will serve as a visual reminder to others who have not yet voted, and at the same time, you will be a symbol that Palm Beach County is bringing politics back into the light."

Anstead announced the local Democrats will be making telephone calls, conducting door-to-door canvassing and mailing brochures.

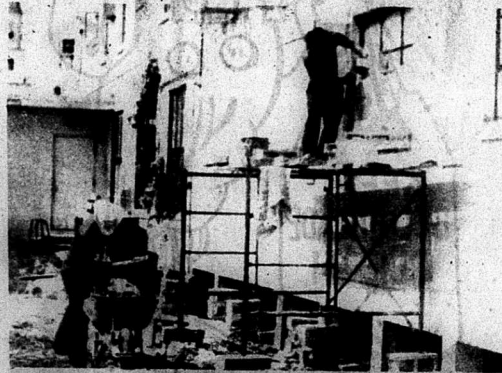

The same sort of activity was reported at the Glades Republican Headquarters as party worker Mrs. Guy Wood said local party workers would be calling more than 1,000 Glades residents.

"These are all party members," she said, "and it's going to be impossible to be sure we even get in touch with all of them. But it's important to vote and we want to do anything we can to get the voters out, regardless of what party they belong to."

"A turnout of 26 per cent," she said, "is ridiculous."

The Glades Republican Club is also taking out a quarter-page ad in this week's Herald to help get the message across.

Club President Robert Pease said the ad is oriented toward the Republican Party candidates but will also urge voters in general to go to the polls, no matter what they vote for.

THE HERALD IS GETTING THE BEAUTIFICATION HABIT TOO...as we clean up, fix up and paint up the Herald Building on South Main.

Ordinance will clear away parked trucks

Owners of many trucks and labor buses in Belle Glade will have to find somewhere else to park once police begin enforcing an ordinance passed on the second reading Tuesday by the City Commission.

The ordinance has been in the mill for sometime and became final Tuesday, although Commissioner Tom Altman expressed some concern.

It is now unlawful to park a bus with a capacity of more than 15 passengers, any tractor-truck, any commercial trailer or motor vehicle with more than two axles for more than 30 minutes on residential streets and right of way.

Altman, saying the city can't forget it is tied to agriculture, was the only commissioner to vote against the ordinance on its second reading.

The ordinance was authorized by the city commission before Altman was elected to his office and was turned down by the commission when it was drawn up in its original form because of the language.

The city previously had an ordinance prohibiting the parking of trucks overnight in residential areas but Commissioner William Greer said this wasn't enough as a number of unloaded trucks were still causing inconvenience for residents.

Greer said the problem has been particularly bad in the southwest section of the city where a number of labor bus and truck owners live.

The city also has prohibited for some time, the parking of trucks on Southwest Avenue E.

The adoption of the ordinance coincides with the beginning today of a program to remove junk cars from city street and rights of way.

City Manager William Malvery said he had been advised by Police Chief Charles Goodlett, the police department would begin enforcement of the program today.

City forces are expected to determine which cars have actually become junkers and are abandoned and to do the job of hauling them away. They will then be sold for scrap.

The policy of booking the center over an extended period of time.

Authorized City Attorney John Baker to buy the old Hugo Theatre from Gold-Dobrow Theatres of Pahokee for one dollar.

City Manager Malvery also informed the commissioners he had been informed by DOT District IV Engineer Ben Simpson the DOT now has funds to repair and resurface West Canal Street North (SR717) from where it becomes two lanes to approximately the Chosen pump station.

The commission also agreed to check to see if the city Marina is available Dec. 13 to hold the annual Palm Beach County League of Municipalities barbecue.

Herald begins beautification of its own building

In conjunction with the Belle Glade Chamber of Commerce's clean up, fix up, paint up month in November, the Belle Glade Herald started work sprucing up its building this week.

The building was just recently purchased by Lawson Braswell within the last three months. Braswell has owned the Herald for almost three years, but the building has remained in the Luther Jones estate until earlier this year.

"There is no doubt the building is an eye sore and I have been wanting to do something with it ever since I purchased the paper in early 1972," said Braswell. "I expect to spend between $15,000 and $20,000 on making it an attractive piece of property."

"It is in a strategic location. It is one of the first buildings people see coming in from both the west and the east. I feel they should have something nice to look at and I intend to fix the building so that it will look nice."

Underway now is the blocking in of unused windows on the south and east sides of the building. Black will also be laid where the muck has oxidized from around the piling so that a continuous wall will be visible down to ground level.

When this is finished, fill will be spread in the parking lot and a paved surface for both E.D. Cole next door and the Herald will be poured. The city is going to put in a new alley behind The Herald, Seminole Supply and B.D. Cole.

When all of the dust is cleared, the building itself will be pressure cleaned and then painted. So far all of the work scheduled is being done by Glades' area workers.

"We want to give Belle Glade a building it can be proud of," said Braswell. "And we hope other merchants in the down town area will follow our lead."

Ring those bells boys!!!

State Rep. Tom Lewis called upon every municipality in Palm Beach County this week to sound their fire bell or fire house siren every hour on the hour Tuesday to help get out the vote.

Rep. Lewis, in his telegram to all of the county's mayors, volunteer fire departments and fire districts said: "As our forefathers sounded the Liberty Bell signifying our independence in 1776, I urge all municipalities and fire departments to sound their fire bell or siren every hour on the hour during election day to remind our citizens to vote."

"It is our constitutional right to vote," he said, and this should serve as an excellent reminder to everyone that this is election day and their vote is important."

We've made some changes

When you go to read your Belle Glade Herald today, you'll notice some changes in our headline styles and in our type.

It is all owed to a new computer we just installed this week which can set headlines and advertising copy almost as quickly as somebody can type. It is called a Compugraphic 7200 and costs in excess of $5,000.

In the past, for instance, it has taken up to five minutes to set one six or seven word headline. It has then taken almost three minutes for the headline to be developed, for a total of eight minutes.

With the 7200 it takes less than 30 seconds to set the headline and another 15 seconds to develop it. Also, in the past, the largest headline we could set was 48 points or two-thirds of an inch high.

Now, with the 7200 we can set headlines all the way from 14 point to 72 point which is one inch high.

We have also decided to go with a new style of type. It is called Futura. Before we used what was called a Bodoni type.

Futura is a cleaner type than Bodoni and therefore easier to read. Bodoni is what is called a serif type—meaning it has little extensions of the letters. Futura is a sans-serif type, meaning its letters cut off clean.

Besides changing families of type, we've also changed style on our headlines. We have gone to what is called a "down style" of head which goes especially well with the new Futura type.

Down style means only the first word of every headline along with all proper nouns are capitalized. All other words are set in all lower case. This should make it easier to read the headlines.

So, we hope you like the changes. We feel it will make the paper look nicer and help you enjoy it a whole lot more.

STATE REPRESENTATIVE CANDIDATE JOHN COSINDINE WAS ...one of several politicians making a last-minute effort to get the vote.

On utility relocation

Killer 80 plans presented

Belle Glade consulting engineers presented proposals for two phases of a project to relocate utility lines in order to four-lane SR80 from Vinegar Bend to Southwest Avenue E and from Airport Road to Hooker Highway.

J.J. Birchall, Briley-Wild and Associates Engineers said the job could either be farmed out to a contractor or could be done by city forces but one decision which must be made was to decide whether to run the relocated lines on DOT right of way.

He said the job would cost approximately $400,000, still near the $425,000 figure he first quoted and what city commission would be lower if the city crews did the work.

"When I gave you that price," he said Tuesday, "it wasn't to make everybody unhappy but it was meant to eliminate any surprises further down the line."

Birchall said he thought it would be a good idea to at least advertise for bids and see what private contractors think the job can be done for.

He said he was also unsure about the liability of the city in case city crews do the relocating and hold up the contractor doing the four-lane work for the state.

The commission decided to go ahead and order materials needed to relocate the water and sewer lines for the project between Vinegar Bend and Avenue E.

A water line extends the entire distance and a sewer line will have to be relocated from South Avenue G to South Avenue E.

Birchall also brought the commission up to date on projected improvements to the city's water system, suggesting the city go ahead and order material needed to modify the water treatment plant.

But delays have probably cost the city any real help in financing the project from the Glades Sugar Cane Growers Cooperative and Quaker Oats. The two industries offered in June to finance or help finance the project if it could be completed in time to supply water for the plants once expansion programs there are completed.

Cooperative President George Wedgworth agreed to meet Monday with the commissioners to see if the industries and the city can cooperate in parallel lines but said the cooperative and Quaker Oats have proceeded on their own.

"We held our first meeting in November 1973," Wedgworth told the commissioners, "and we said then, time was of the essence. Several months later, we met with the city again in June 1974 and we informed you time was critical."

The critical point at which we would have an interest in sharing in construction of a water intake in Lake Okechobee is past," he said.

But he said he was still interested in assuring a quantity of water, possibly by paralleling lines on Airport Road, even though engineering work has already been done to supply both the cooperative sugar mill and city residents with water.

More amendments

The fifth amendment provides for five of changes to the Judicial Qualifications Commission.

The changes include publication of commission proceedings, allows for commission rules of procedure repeal by the state supreme court or legislature and would allow disciplinary action to be taken on incidents taking place before the judge's present term, as early as Nov. 1, 1986.

Other additions would allow any information gathered by the commission to be used by the proper agencies to impeach a judge and that the state supreme court must ratify any reprimand or suspension of a justice on that court.

This is probably the most important of the seven amendments on the ballot, expanding as it does the powers and scope of the commission designated to act as a watchdog over the state's judges.

The only provision of the amendment we find fault with is that when a supreme court justice is concerned, the legislature should be the ratifying body. On the whole, however, we feel this is an excellent amendment.

A judge, like Caesar's wife, should be above suspicion and an example to us all. He is a dispenser of justice and should, as any example, be held more rigidly accountable than the general public.

Vote Yes on Amendment Number Five.

We oppose Amendment No. six on the same grounds as the first amendment. It would allow the pledging of public credit by cities, towns, counties or utility districts for expansion of public utilities operations.

In other words, this amendment would allow bonds to be raised without the approval of the electorate. We may be old-fashioned but we still like some say-so on how our money is spent, especially when it's a large chunk as utility bonds usually are. Vote No.

Amendment number seven provides that "No person shall be deprived of any right because of race, religion or physical handicaps," instead of just race or religion.

On the face of it, this amendment sounds as though it should receive the same support as God, apple pie and motherhood, we believe, but it's a little more complex than that.

Since neither race nor religion are protected by law, despite the constitutional provision, any more than they are, we believe it would provide little protection at best and be a cruel hoax at worst.

Furthermore, physical handicaps fall under somewhat of a more specious category than race, religion, sex or what have you and the proposed amendment is, we believe, a little too general.

The diversion of funds for tiny minority, should the state be forced by the amendment to provide equal facilities in education, employment and recreation, could possibly mean the destruction of programs already in existence for the public as a whole. The costs could be astronomical.

No fair minded person would want to vote against fair treatment of persons who are already handicapped but we believe the legislature could come up with a better wording than the proposed amendment.

A model they might study with some benefit would be a similar article in the thellinosis constitution which reads, "All persons with a physical or mental handicap shall be free from discrimination unrelated to ability in the hiring and promotion practices of any employer."

It hurts, but we had to vote No to Amendment Number Seven.

Get out, Eckerd

Dear Sir:

With justifiable indignation, we want to intercede here for Belle Glade's "Favorite Son", Dr. John Grady. Many who believed in him, worked tirelessly hours and got more than the required number of names on the petition to put him on the Nov. 5 ballot for the American Party for U.S. Senate.

Now, as a family, we have had enough". Why should a millionaire who can feed not only the ego of the other millionaires, and the kitty too, ask a worthy man who has worked hard and put real meaning into the battered word, "integrity", take this away from him? Jack Eckerd, "Why don't you step aside?"

Personally, we want a man who still has faith in God and Man who still loves both. We shall continue to fight the political battle till the ballots are counted for the right man. And win or lose, he's a winner to us who believe in him and are fed up with budgets set up beyond the average man. More power Dr. Grady. Respectfully and prayerfully, George and Dot Scarborough

Color for beauty

With the Belle Glade Beautification Committee holding a contest to name the elf in the picture, we thought it might be fun for the kids to have a coloring contest to go along with it.

Just color the elf in the picture and take the entry to the Belle Glade Library or the Belle Glade Chamber of Commerce.

Mrs. Effie Grear said members of the committee will judge the completed artwork at the library at 5 p.m. Tuesday and the winner will be announced in next week's Herald, along with the winner of the naming contest.

Meanwhile, the naming contest goes on but Friday is the deadline for this one, with the Chamber of Commerce collecting entries.

The winner of the Name the Elf Contest will receive a $25 U.S. Savings Bond, according to Mrs. Grear.

John Grady

Dr. John Grady for U.S. Senate.

It is easy to endorse the local man-in-fact-most of the time it is expected whether he is qualified for the job or not. But we sincerely feel John Grady has many good qualities which would make him an excellent U.S. Senator.

He would take to Washington many fine qualities which are sorely lacking there.

First, we feel Grady is honest. We do not believe he could be bought.

Second, we feel he is a man of high moral character who says what he believes in even though it may not be what the majority of people want to hear.

Third, we believe Grady is truly concerned about this country and the problems people in it are experiencing. After watching him for almost three years in local government there is no doubt in our minds that he will represent us well.

Jerry Thomas

Jerry Thomas for Governor.

Jerry Thomas is a fiscal conservative Florida needs badly. State spending has gone out of sight in almost every department. Yet, Floridians are getting less for their tax dollar.

Thomas has pledged himself to bring state spending back in line. And while lots of politicians make lots of promises, Thomas seems more sincere than any run-of-the-mill candidate for governor.

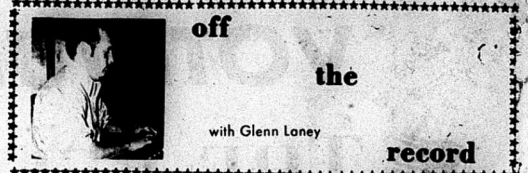

Harry Johnston

Everybody is jumping on the anti-Russell Sykes bandwagon since this fiasco with his expenses was exposed. Unfortunately this is overshadowing the fact Sykes has a very well qualified opponent in Harry Johnston.

So, while we don't particularly care for the job Sykes has done as a State Senator, we would rather write a positive endorsement for Johnston than a negative one against Sykes.

The Democratic party has been after Johnston to run for quite some time now. The fact that somebody with his background would put his name before the people as a candidate is a grand coup for the Dems.

He has distinguished himself as an attorney, having served as president of the Palm Beach County with Glenn Loney

There is a poll in the state of Florida which has been around for quite a number of years, called the Kelly Poll. It purports to tell how people will vote in upcoming elections.

In the past it has been fairly accurate-but the last poll casts some

It shows John Grady getting 5.9 per cent of the vote in the U.S. Senate race. Only it doesn't show John Grady getting that vote it shows: "Belle Glade Dentist, Jack Grady."

Now, if it can't get the name and profession right of one of its candidates how in the world is it going to get the vote right.

Several people have seriously asked me what kind of showing I thought the good doctor was going to make. And I have the same answer for all of them.

Theoretically, historically, economically, any way you want to look at it he shouldn't have a snowball's chance. But that is exactly what I said about his chances for getting 105,000 signatures on a petition to even get his name on the ballot.

Now, if you don't learn by your mistakes-you are a fool. I would like to see John win the race if for no other reason than to have a U.S. Senator from little old Belle Glade. He certainly would bring a couple of ingredients to national government which are sorely lacking-honesty and integrity.

But really, most of the odds are stacked against him. What he does have working for him is votes apathy. A small turnout would be in his favor-and really is what the two major candidates fear the most.

Another plus is the public's feeling in general toward the conventional politicians of both parties. Both Democrats and Republicans have been indicted all over the land. People are fed up with crooked politicians. Grady, at least, offers them a choice.

The third plus is the large undecided vote. Capturing a major portion of this element is what Grady needs to come close.

As I said, the odds are stacked so high against Grady he shouldn't really have a chance. But then, that's what qualified candidate than Jacksonville state legislator Bruce Smather, James Sebesta's qualifications would be hard to overlook. As it is, there is no real question for anyone who's taken a close look at the candidates.

Sebesta was elected Hillsborough County Supervisor of Elections in 1970 and after a two-year term of outstanding achievements, was re-elected without opposition two years ago.

During his four year term he introduced neighborhood registration, mobile registration, computerized records and computerized voting (the first in the state) and became the first in the state to prosecute violations of election laws. In the meantime, he cut the costs of his office by 10 per cent.

Smathers, on the other hand is a freshman state representative trading almost solely on his father's name.

No doubt, vote Sebesta.

Ralph Turlington

Ralph Turlington for Commissioner of Education

Although we're not exactly overjoyed over the way Gov. Reubin Askew appointed Turlington to his post in an obvious spoils politics move, he's definitely qualified for the position.

An intense intellectual who has been a classroom teacher and a tenured member of the University of Florida faculty, Turlington has also shown a great deal of interest in progressive education during his 24 years in the state House of Representatives.

Good choice for Askew several months ago. Good choice for the people on Nov. 5.

Tom Lewis

Tom Lewis for State House of Representatives District 83.

When Lewis ran for office two years ago, he was only the umpteenth politician from the coast who promised to keep in touch with Glades voters...as well as voters in the rest of the county.

But Lewis is the only one we know of who has Bar Association and as president of the Jr. Bar.

He understands the problems of Palm Beach County, having served as a member of the planning board in West Palm.

In the field of finance he is a director of a West Palm Beach Bank and is a director for the Palm Beach Community Trust Foundation.

He has been very community minded as well, having served as president of Rotary, president of United Fund, director West Palm Beach Chamber of Commerce and several others.

He would represent us well in Tallahassee. And he might even spend a little more time in the Glades than the incumbent has been wont to do over the past two years.

In the six State House seats only one man is worth commenting on and that is Tom Lewis. A separate endorsement on him can be found elsewhere on this page.

The five other seats are filled with people who only come out around election time. Their opponents say if elected they will be out at least once a month-but you know, promises are promises.

The only two who have even had the courtesy of stopping by are Gene Campbell who is running against Ray Moudry and John Considine who is running against Jay J. Reynolds.

You will also have noticed we have made no endorsement for State Treasurer or State Senate Seat 28.

The current State Treasurer is under indictment and may be impeached even if he is re-elected. Tom O'Malley's opponent, Jeffrey Latham, is not qualified for the job.

Tom Johnston, the Republican incumbent for State Senate Seat No. 28, has done little for the Glades. We've seen him over here on a few occasions, but if he has worked hard and long on any of our problems we don't know it. His opponent is an unknown quantity whom we are not ready to endorse.

What is most important though-vote. The candidates may not be the greatest and the races may not be the hottest. But get out and vote. Or maybe one day you may not have that right.

James Sebesta

James A. Sebesta for Secretary of State. Even if he were running against a more Dave's blood is supposed to be good for sore eyes and upset stomachs.

BOOOO!

It was a time for spooks, goblins, witches and other things that go bump in the night as the people of South Bay held their annual Halloween carnival for the students at South Bay and Rosenwald Elementary schools. The All Hallow's Eve festivities got under way with a bang when a parade marched up Palm Beach Road to the city hall and then east to South Bay Park. The sweet green-complexioned young thing at the right led the way atop the city's new fire truck.

delivered. He came out to the Glades at least once a month every month he held office except when the legislature was in session and one two-month period at the height of the gas crunch.

On that basis alone, even if we disagreed with everything he said in Tallahassee, we'd have to endorse him...but the task is easier because we've agreed with virtually every move he's made while acting as our most representative representative.

While Bill James has no opposition for his District 80 seat, he did one thing we thought was remarkable and notable.

When it became obvious he had clear sailing, James did something we never heard of before. He returned all campaign contributions.

In the generally stagnant atmosphere of cynicism toward politics and politicians, this is the most refreshing breeze we've felt in some time.

LP Gas saves you money

LP Gas will cook almost 2 meals with the same amount of original energy it takes to cook 1 meal electrically.

LP Gas will dry about three and one-third loads of clothes with the same amount of original energy it takes to dry 1 load electrically.

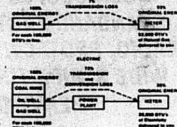

LP Gas will heat almost two and one-half gallons of water with the same amount of original energy it takes to heat 1 gallon electrically.

LP Gas comes to you straight-no inefficient conversion to another type of fuel. It's pure energy, in its cleanest, most efficient form. With gas 93 percent of the original energy comes into your home, ready for direct use in your gas appliances. So you can see, very little is used in delivery to you. On the other hand, around here, most electric power is generated from burning coal, and some oil and natural gas. And only about 28 percent of the original energy is delivered to you as electricity. Obviously, most of the original energy is lost when converted into electrical power. See chart below.

with your help...

TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 5, 1974

we can keep responsive leadership in Florida

IF YOU DON'T LIKE YOUR ELECTRIC BILL THIS MONTH, SUPPORT THE MAN WHO'S FIGHTING TO ELIMINATE THE FUEL ADJUSTMENT!

During the past few weeks, Senator Russell Sykes has filed lawsuits against Florida Power and Light and the Public Service Commission because he believes the monthly fuel adjustment charge is illegal.

Senator Sykes wants this unfair Fuel Adjustment charge to be eliminated...and the funds returned to you, the consumer. But he needs your help!

Support Senator Sykes in these lawsuits. Support him with your vote for his re-election on November 5.

for your sake, re-elect
RUSSELL

SYKES

At COC installation banquet

W.C. Taylor named Man of Year

W.C. Taylor was named man of the year Friday night by the Belle Glade Chamber of Commerce.

Taylor, a former past president of the Chamber, is the owner of Taylor funeral home. He was the first black man to be ever so honored by the Belle Glade Chamber.

Bob White, head of Southern Bell in Belle Glade, was installed as president for 1974-75. Installed along with him were Roy Burch as first vice president, Louis Kirchman as second vice president, Curtis Thompson as treasurer and Charles Ward, Earl Meredith, Bob Pesch and Wayne Mikell as new directors.

Named as Agri-Industrial Man-of-the-Year was Billy Rogers. Rogers is in Japan, so accepting the award for him was Laura Hayes, his daughter. Lee Kirchman was named Police Officer-of-the-Year.

U.S. Congressman Paul Rogers was the guest speaker of the evening. Rogers, who is running unopposed this year, gave a brief, but hard hitting speech to the more than 200 Chamber members who attended the annual steak dinner.

"There is no community I enjoy more than here," Rogers told the gathering. I enjoy the warmth, friendship and Louis the good food."

The last reference was to Louis Kirchman, second vice president with the Chamber, who provided the steaks for the banquet. Kirchman is the owner of Fr-Eddy's restaurant in Belle Glade.

Rogers said he wanted to talk briefly on two or three matters which most concerned America. "Inflation is rampant," said Rogers. "Although we see some reduction in the interest rate, there is an acceleration in all parts of the economy. The slowing of these depends on two major factors.

"First, energy. We must become independent on our own energy demands. The President has called on us to sacrifice. But he has not called on us to sacrifice as much as we will have to before the problem is solved.

"Nineteen-eighty has been given as the time we can be self-sufficient. Most people do not think this is possible. It can be done, how soon is the question.

"Second, we have inflation in food. You here in Glades know what production means. We must increase our production to lower the price. Congress has taken off the limits on crops."

Rogers also indicated, Congress was going to cut the budget—especially in the area of foreign aid.

"They have asked for $5.2 billion foreign aid. We are going to cut that. A bill for $2.6 billion has come out and we are going to cut that.

"You can't buy friends," said Rogers. "President Ford went to Mexico where they just found oil. But the U.S. isn't going to get any of that oil.

"Mexico has said she is going to sell it to Communist Cuba first. Then she will sell it to Latin America. And then if there is any left, she will sell it to the U.S. at the world market price.

"To give you an idea of what a friend Mexico is, 70 per cent of all the heroin coming into the United States today is coming from Mexico. It is called brown heroin.

"The only energy we will ever get from the Mexicans is if our scientists can come up with something from the jumping bean."

Rogers said Congress is also going to ask Detroit to make all cars get at least 20 miles to the gallon.

"If we could do this right now—if all cars got at least 20 miles to the gallon of gas, it is said we wouldn't need to import any oil at all," said Rogers.

"This country is a great country. And it will continue to be great as long as we have people who are willing to work and make it great. God Bless America. She'll always be here and always be great."

Lake Okechobee Audubon Society will have a field trip on Sunday afternoon, November 3rd. The wildflowers in bloom along the levee at Fisheating Creek are a beautiful addition to the many birds there. The public is invited to share and enjoy this trip. Meeting place is the swimming pool parking lot (back of the park) in Clewiston at 1:00 p.m., Sunday. Bring a picnic supper.

Love that Lion!

Charles Ward gave out with an award-winning Lion's last week as Sandra Chambliss made "Love a Lion Month" a reality. The occasion was the presentation of a $700 check by the Belle Glade Lions Club to the Belle Glade Junior Woman's Club to be used in the Juniors' cancer drive. Ward headed up the organization of a spaghetti dinner to raise the funds and Mrs. Chambliss headed up Junior cancer fund-raising efforts.

Today is donation deadline

Grady gathers Eckerd supporters

With today his deadline for collecting campaign contributions, Dr. John Grady has taken to the airways the past two weeks in an appeal for both votes and money.

And the 30-minute television special Grady has taped and which has been run on most of the major television stations around the state, and which is still running in some areas, has brought results.

Ruthanna Vass, a worker in Grady's headquarters in South

Bay, said a large number of voters around the state have contacted them, sending small donations and offering their services in Grady's campaign.

"We've even had quite a few people who were working for (Republican candidate Jack) Eckerd and (Democratic candidate Richard) Stone call us and say they were switching over to the American Party," she said.

Mrs. Vass said most of the workers, some of them campaign managers in some of the state's 67 counties, have defected from Eckerd's campaign.

"They thought," she said, "Eckerd was the conservative in the race and they just didn't know about Dr. Grady. Two or three of the campaign managers said they couldn't publicly endorse Dr. Grady but they would vote for him."

In the meantime, Grady's telecasts continue to bring in donations and pledges of support but Mrs. Vass emphasized today is the deadline for accepting contributions according to a state election law.

Mrs. Vass said workers at campaign headquarters are optimistic about Tuesday's election despite the results of at least one poll showing Grady as drawing 5.9 per cent of the vote compared to 55.6 per cent for Eckerd and 38.5 per cent for Stone.

The Kelly Poll and Survey, based in Orlando, claims 87 per cent accuracy in two primary trials on Dec. 10 and Oct. 1 but the poll's accuracy zoomed to rock bottom in describing Grady.

The poll lists him as "Dentist Jack Grady, American Party." In other races the Kelly Poll picks Jerry Thomas over Reubin Askew in the governor's race, Bruce Smeathers over James Sebesta in the Secretary of State race and Bill Bevis over Noel Bacon in the Public Service Commission race.

Carroll said he and board members Robert F. Howell and Dr. Bradley Coates will be touring the schools in the Glades all day Nov. 6.

The three will meet with teachers and west area school system personnel only at 2:30 p.m. at Belle Glade Elementary School on that day.

The listening post will begin

Charles Schiele earns Life rating

Charles Schiele received the rank of Life Scout at the October court of honor held by Troop 621 at the Everglades

Presbyterian Church. Scoutmaster Robert Fincannon, in presenting the Life rank, told Schiele, "There's just one more step to go to achieve the most coveted scouting rank—Eagle."

Fincannon and Assistant Scoutmaster Charles Burkett presented a number of merit badges, including communications for Steve Wilson, archery and first aid to Danny Kirchman, citizenship in the world to Jeff Jones, personal management to Steve Rice, woodcarving to Jimmy Chambliss and Jeff Jones and life saving to Charles Schiele.

Junior Assistant Scoutmaster Paul Orsenigo presented hiking skill awards to Keith Hicks and Jason Shelton.

Fincannon called on Matt McCall to receive the rank of Scout. The first rank received when entering into the Boy Scout program.

Fincannon said Troop 621 Scouts had earned a total of 145 merit badges during the past year and had been camping as a troop a total of 37 nights, including two nights with troop parents.

Reach a child!

A film series entitled "To Reach A Child" will be offered by the Community Mental Health Center beginning at 7 p.m. tonight at Palm Beach Junior College Glades.

The series was developed by Dr. Marilyn M. Segal, Program Director, Institute of Early Childhood Education, Nova University, Fort Lauderdale. The series follows a typical baby through his first year of life as he learns to use his body, his senses, and his mind to communicate with other people.

A description of the important learnings that take place in these early months will be presented and specific things that you can do with your baby to help him learn will be discussed.

Parents of young children, and expectant parents are encouraged to attend the nine one-hour sessions on Thursday evenings, starting October 31, and meeting every two weeks. There is no charge for the film series.

Turlington lends an ear

Florida Commissioner of Education Ralph Turlington got a close-up glimpse of exceptional child education in the Glades last week when he visited the West Area Exceptional Child Education Center at Gove Elementary School. Turlington was especially interested in efforts by Mrs. Peggy Snider (above) to teach a nearly-deaf student how to enunciate words. After visiting the center, Turlington took his campaign tour to the Glades Sugar Cane Growers Cooperative Sugar Mill, was guest at a small party and spoke at Lake Shore Civic Center.

The Raiders have done it again—one more team out of the way on their road of struggle to the championship playoffs, and maybe just maybe the state championship.

Key West did one thing that the last five teams haven't managed to do, and that was score against Glades Central—and even then they didn't make it until the last few minutes of the third quarter.

I took a better look at one part of the game that had never interested me before—in fact, that was the part where I, along with quite a few others, took a breather and went to get refreshments or something.

But as the Glades Central "Maroon Machine" band came out on the field I decided to watch and see how they were making out this year. Surprisingly, or rather not so surprisingly considering the band teacher, they were really good and exciting to watch—especially the two drum majors, Tolbert Dorsey and Brent Woodham.

They put on quite an impressive show, with their fancy steps and movements. Brent seemed to get lost in his act with his arms and legs swinging back and forth—talk about soul!

I had to feel sort of sorry for Artis Ford, who was trying to get pictures of Brent. I know he was having some trouble because Brent was moving around so much he probably couldn't keep him in the picture. But he finally got some.

We gotta hand it to Willie Pyfrom, he sure can put on a halftime show which is as impressive as the Raider football team.

Maybe that's what Glades Central is all about.

Dolphin fans got an inside look at what may be the core of the Miami Dolphin offense next season as rookie Benny Malone and supersub Don Nottingham each put out great performances in last Sunday's game against the Baltimore Colts—to say nothing of Nat Moore, who has already proved himself able in past games.

Unfortunately, I was one of those fans who didn't get a look. Joe Robbie really dropped a bombshell on us when he banned the broadcasting of any Dolphin games on a Fort Myers station which had been showing the home games.

When we got cable television over a year ago I was excited because then I would be able to watch the Dolphins "live" as they trampled over their victims in the Orange Bowl. And now that's blown to bits, unless some higher-up convinces the others to change their minds.

Sure, I could see his point in wanting more people to show up at the football game and bring them more money, but what about us poor people up here in Belle Glade and other towns who are barely inside the blackout area? By the time we find out the game is going to be blacked out and maybe get time to go down and pick up tickets (they don't reserve any) they might be all sold out. It's a chance I'm not too keen on taking.

Anyhow, since I couldn't watch the game on television Sunday, a friend and I decided to splurge on our paychecks (I'm real good at doing that) and go over to the coast. We ate at a nice little seafood restaurant (commonly known as the Red Lobster), and while patiently, or should I be truthful and say impatiently, we noticed one of the guys cleaning the tables was throwing food and dishes in his tray hastily. He noticed us looking at him and explained he was anxious to get back to the Dolphin game on television.

I was about ready to "forget" the food and follow him to the set but decided against it as I noticed the manager giving him the evil eye. He must have noticed it too cuz he slowed down and I saw that he went on to the other empty tables that needed cleaning.

Oh well, so much for that. See ya.

Raiders whip Key West, 28-14

The Glades Central Raiders won a hard fought 28-14 victory over a scrappy band of Conchs from Key West, but not before the Conchs broke the string of scoreless quarters at 20.

Halfback Sid Portier lofted a 20-yard touchdown pass to big tight end Dennis Kitchens late in the third quarter.

Then scrambling Conch quarterback Joe Major hit flanker Bo Howard with a 35-yard pass over the Raider secondary and he ran another 30 yards for the second Key West touchdown of the evening.

But the passing of Raider quarterback Rigo Ruiz who hit on 9 of 11 passes good for 145 yards, and the running of "The Flea", Anthony Burger, who ran the second half kickoff back 82 yards for a touchdown and then scored on a 11-yard dash around left end kept the Raiders safely out in front.

The Raiders marched 74 yards in 14 plays to score on Ruiz's one yard sneak the first time they got possession of the ball. Rigo hit Hudall Collie with a 14-yard pass and Norman Smith with two screen passes that covered 28 yards to keep the first drive alive.

David Kinlaw made the extra point to give the Raiders a 7-0 lead that held up through the second quarter.

The Raiders threatened to score with seconds left in the half but time ran out on the Raiders with the ball resting on the Key West two yard line.

The Raiders opened the second half with a bang as Burger took the Key West kickoff on his 18 yard line and raced down the right sideline behind good blocking 82 yards for the score. David Kinlaw converted and the Raiders led 14-0.

But lightning struck quick for the Key West Conchs when a bad snap gave the good field position on the Raider 28 yard line. Four plays later, Sid Portier found right end Dennis Kitchens all alone in the end zone for a touchdown.

Skip Parker added the extra point and Key West was trailing only 14-7.

Ruiz directed the Raiders 54 yards after they recovered the Key West kickoff on their own 46 yard line. Rigo raced 23 yards on a keeper and then hit Norman Smith with a 22-yard screen pass to move the ball to the Conchs' 12 yard line.

The extra point and Key West trailed 20-14, but the Raiders were not to be denied as they marched 52 yards in eight plays to score.

Anthony Burger circled his own left end for the last 11 yards and the touchdown. Rigo

ANTHONY "THE FLEA" BURGER SHOWS THE KIND OF MOVES that helped him make two touchdowns Friday night against Key West.

Ruiz picked up eight yards and Norman Smith added two more to give the Raiders a first down on the Key West two yard line. Two plays later, fullback Howard Moses bucked over right tackle for the touchdown. Kinlaw's try for the extra point was wide and the Raiders held a 20-7 lead with 9:47 to go in the fourth quarter.

Key West came right back with a 70-yard pass play from quarterback Joe Major to flanker back Bo Howard for a touchdown. Skip Parker added

Ruiz then hit halfback Norman Smith with a pass to give the Raiders a two-point conversion and a 28-14 lead.

Burger gained 89 yards in seven carries plus scoring two touchdowns, one an 82-yard kickoff return.

Norman Smith rushed for 28 yards in 10 carries plus catching five passes good for 116 yards. Howard Moses had 35 yards in 11 carries plus one touchdown.

The defensive Player of the Week was Charles Small for his leading the team in tackles with eight. He was closely followed by Cornelius Brown who had six tackles plus three sacks of the quarterback and Calvin Willis who had six tackles and two quarterback sacks. Other linemen who played well was David Jones with five tackles, Ernie Jackson and Willie Terry with three tackles each and David Kinlaw with four tackles.

The Raider defense played an outstanding first half but made three mistakes in the second half that cost them two touchdowns.

Charles Small was awarded the Slicker of the Week for his tackle of the Key West halfback on a delayed screen pass.

The Raiders will be at home Friday, for the third straight week as they host the Naples Eagles. The Eagles bring a fine running game to town as they have scored at least two touchdowns in every game they have played.

Naples is 1 and five on the season but they have played three teams in the top 10 in the State. Game time will be 8 p.m.

The Raider Junior Varsity hosts Fort Pierce this Thursday night at 7:30 p.m. The Raiders battled Ft. Pierce to a 6-6 tie in their opening game of the season. The JV's are 4-0-1 for the season.

GLADES CHURCH NEWS

THE HERALD WELCOMES NEWS ITEMS FROM YOUR CHURCH EACH WEEK.
CALL 996-2056 NOT LATER THAN TUESDAY NOON FOR PUBLICATION THURSDAY.

The Parson Pontificates

Wanted: An unlimited number of Christian Witnesses. They must meet the following qualifications:

They must be of good character, with unquestionable credibility.

They must be ready to tell the truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth. [The cause can be hindered by exaggeration as well as by other inaccuracies in testimony.]

They must be willing to go to where the issues are on trial.

They must have a first hand knowledge of Christianity and a personal acquaintance with the Lord.

They must be willing to speak up audibly, so that the entire court may hear and understand the testimony.

The privileges are few, the responsibilities immense. Any qualified persons are urged to contact the pastor of their church for assignment. In fact, all qualified persons are under subpoena. [See Acts 1:8]

Young people elect officers

The young people met Saturday, October 19, 1974, at 2 p.m. at the Mt. Zion A.M.E. church to elect officers for this conference year.

The following persons were elected: Pres. Valerie Vereen, Vice Pres. Sanjana Clay, Secretary Detrick Lealand, Asst. Sec. Rhonda Grear, Treasurer Janice Bains, Chaplin Almata Jackson. The young people also elected Miss Freddie Howard and Mr. Austin Lewis to work with them along with their Director Mrs. Maude Vereen.

The President (Valerie) invited the general public to worship with them Sunday at 11 a.m. and at 6 p.m. at which time they will render both services.

She said, "The speaker for morning worship will be Rev. Wilbur Harrison, a former graduate of Lake Shore High School and is now serving as an asst. Chaplain at Glades Correctional Institution."

The evening speaker will be our secretary Miss Detrick Lealand, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cleodis Lealand. She is a student at Glades Central High School.

Don't miss hearing these two young people's. Our children their will render the song service.

CDS to hold carnival today

Christian Day School will hold its annual Halloween carnival beginning at 5 p.m. today.

The proceedings will begin with a parade at 5, featuring children dressed in the traditional Halloween costumes and events such as a ring toss and a cake walk will follow.

There will also be a costume contest.

The Rev. Rebecca Radillo, pastor of the Community United Methodist Church Spanish Congregation, will speak to Church Women United at 11 a.m. Friday at the Community Methodist Church in Boca Raton. The theme of her talk will be "The Aspiring Majority."

Church taking special offering

The Community United Methodist Church is taking a special offering for Honduras relief next Sunday morning. The United Methodist Committee on Overseas Relief, which keeps on hand emergency food and medicine, and has 200 doctors and nurses on standby, responded to the Honduras crisis within 72 hours after the destructive storm hit.

UMCOR cooperates with other churches and agencies, especially with Church World Service which has 100,000 pounds of clothing in stock. MCOIR is delivering 34 tons of supplies to the devastated country. But the need will continue for many months, and the churches will be in there helping. They need our support.

You'd Better Believe in Youth!

Believe it or not, today there are one hundred million Americans 25 years young or younger. That's right, half our population of two hundred million people.

On this basis, you'd better believe in youth, if you ever believed in anything.

Fortunately, you can believe in this swelling tidal wave of Tomorrow.

Despite the bearded beatniks in some areas, the youth of today is just as sound as the youth of yesterday.

Despite the hapless hippies of the lunatic fringe, the high school crop of today is the best crop we've ever raised. They're eager to learn and share their knowledge.

Despite misguided demonstrators on some campuses, the college men and women of today are learning more and acting more adult than those of other generations.

Despite the comic-led agitators on city streets, the college-oriented youth of today neighborhood and mine are still closer to God and country than ever before.

Young men in uniform are helping America keep its pledges all over the world. Young women in uniform are backing them up, and serving the sick, the halt and the lame all over the land.

Yes, youth is on the march everywhere... to take over the job of upholding law and order. Young business men are assuming more responsibilities. Young scientists are contributing to new products, new developments in every field.

Dynamic, restless, productive youth is dedicated to improve this world.

If you don't believe it, get acquainted with some of the young people in your neighborhood. You might even help with one of the youth groups in your community at your place of worship.

Methodist Church history

Editor's Note: This article is the first in a series of three by Bishop Joel D. McDavid concerning the background of the United Methodist Church and its beliefs. The address was delivered to the Laymen's Retreats at the United Methodist Youth Camp, Leesburg.

Christian beliefs can never take the place of the glowing experience of God. Without beliefs there can be no vital Christianity at all. To walk with God, we must know something about him, who he is and what he has done in our world. We must have some strong insights into God's world as he created it and sustained it. We must have some knowledge of our beliefs about God.

One whose beliefs are shallow or weak is a fit prospect for every whim that comes along. You are like one with frail body who is susceptible to the infections that always threaten to the body. It is tragic to find one who is has no notion of what he really believes and is just like the last book he has read or the last person he has visited. The Christian religion is built upon some vigorous thinking and strong conviction. We must love God with our minds. A parade of great Christians would include St. Paul who said, "I am determined to know nothing save Jesus Christ and Him crucified;" Martin Luther who said, "Here I stand, God helping me I can do no other;" and best of all, Jesus who was willing to be slain to crown love as supreme in his life and in the world. "Let this mind be in you which was also in Christ Jesus." That means strong beliefs based upon a great faith.

Many of our beliefs we hold in common with fellow Christians of other persuasions. For this reason we as United Methodists do not feel that we have a corner on belief or behavior. We join with others in seeking the truth that is in God. We dare not criticize others who are seeking, but rather we should be ready to profit from their findings.

However, we United Methodists do have some beliefs and directions that belong to no other denomination. They have a vital place in the total arena of Christian beliefs and make their contribution to the whole. We must inform ourselves and understand basic Christian beliefs and those that are peculiarly our own.

Some have said that as United Methodist we do not believe anything. Two responses I would make. One, we are not well informed on those things we believe and therefore not always able to proclaim them with clarity. The other is that ours is not a faith built upon rigid dogma or ecclesiastical authority, and this may give a false appearance. We do have strong beliefs that are focal points around which we do our thinking, build our faith, and from which our actions are directed. Let us try to understand these.

John Wesley was a clergyman in the Church of England. He never denied his ordination there. He established Methodist Societies in the Church of England to give life and health to his own faith and that of the church he loved. His basic desire was to plant seeds of warmth and fervor in the church. This he did by having the small group meetings each week to talk about what God had done for the people, to instruct in Christian discipline, and to seek together in spiritual powers.

When these societies moved to the new land, the United States, they lost their attachment to the Church of England and soon grouped themselves into a movement of their own. When the American Revolution came along and all allegiances to England were broken, the Methodist Church reached a second peak in its formation. The Christian Conference of 1784 officially brought into being, in the Lovely Lane Chapel in Baltimore, the Methodist Church.

From this you note that our church grew out of no doctrinal controversy, nor did it develop out of anybody's conceptions, dogmas or systematized beliefs. Thus, we are the 'church of a heart' rather than one with rigid beliefs. Many of our beliefs are adapted from those of the Church of

Adams defends British

By Jerome Turk & Edw. Walsh

Elizabethtown, N.J., Oct. 30, 1774-The fancy carriage provided by friends of Samuel Adams came rolling into this town today, where the four men of the Massachusetts delegation to the recent Congress dined. The delegates are en route home.

Walsh & I have been invited to accompany them as far as New York, although we're both riding horseback. (Somewhat queasily on my part, I might add.)

Today is the birthday of Sam's stubby, keen-minded cousin John. He is 39 and the Boston lawyer seems well-satisfied with himself at this point in life. The Massachusetts men, including the brace of Adamsses, Robert Treat Paine & Thomas Cushing, have won overwhelming support at the Congress for their position vs. the British parliament.

At dinner, John Adams sang the praises of "the happy, the peaceful, the elegant, the hospitable, the polite city of Philadelphia." He also confided to us that he did not expect to see "this part of the world again."

Today marks another anniversary which John Adams did not seem to wish to talk about. Exactly four years ago, Capt. Thomas Preston, commander of the eight British soldiers involved in the Boston Massacre, was acquitted in a court trial. Adams had defended Preston & later, his men.

One reason for John's reluctance to talk about the trial was that two of his dinner partners had played important roles on the opposite side of the case. Cousin Sam had lined up 96 witnesses for the prosecution & printed their statements, 94 of which damned the soldiers. Bob Paine was the chief prosecuting attorney.

"The Bloody Massacre perpetrated in King Street" (according to the engraving by Paul Revere) took place in the icy cold of March 5, 1770. It culminated 17 months of "the occupation of Boston by British troops. And it began as a minor ruckus between a British sentry & boy, Edward Garrick, a wigmaker's apprentice, hurled insults at a passing officer & the sentry cuffed him.

A mob soon collected & the main guard, consisting of Captain Preston & seven soldiers, turned out. As Preston stood in front of the line of eight guards, the mob grew larger, pressing in on the soldiers, hurling snowballs, sticks & insults.

"Fire, you lobsters! You bloody backs! You don't dare! You can't kill us all!" were some of the taunts. Then a club hit Private Montgomery, knocking him down. Rising in rage, he pulled his trigger. Other shots followed at random & five Bostonians fell dead or mortally wounded. One of these was Crispus Attucks, a black who had stood in the forefront of the mob, swinging a club.

"Mr. Adams, please tell us how you came to take the case for Captain Preston & his men?" Walsh suddenly asked as we were finishing our meal.

Adams smiled, hesitated & then recounted how, the morning after the shooting, James Forrest, a friend of Captain Preston, had entered his law office near the Town House.

"There were tears streaming down his face," said John. Forrest announced that Preston could not get a lawyer to defend him. Forrest had been to 26-year-old Josiah Quincy, another patriot, who said that he would take the case only if John Adams would, to.

"I told Mr. Forrest that a counsel should be the very last thing that an accused person should lack in a free country," Adams recalled. "If he thinks he cannot have a fair trial without my assistance, without hesitation he shall have it."

Making no further comment, we all rose from the table, preparing to leave. As other Massachusetts men walked out the door, John Adams lingered a moment.

"I think it was one of the best services I have ever rendered my country," he said quietly.

Walsh & I nodded in sincere agreement.

Belle Glade women hold meeting

The Belle Glade Business & Professional Women's Club held their October meeting on Monday evening, Oct. 14, at the Municipal Library. A very informative program on Residential Burglary was presented by Detective James Eberle of the Belle Glade Police Department.

After viewing of a film, Eberle held a question and answer discussion with the members of the local club and their guests. Guests were 14 members of the Pahokey Business & Professional Women's Club and Mrs. Elizabeth LaFolles, Belle Glade Librarian. Plans were discussed for the rummage sale planned for Saturday, Nov. 2, at the corner next to the Polar Bear.

The members voted, with regret, to accept the resignation of their president, Betty Geiger. Mrs. Marie Causey takes over as president.

Hostesses for the meeting were Miss Vida Hardee, Mrs. Oretta Kirchman and Mrs. Virginia Williams.

The next meeting will be November 11, 1974 at the home of Mrs. Marie Causey.

MISS KATHY BALLARD IS NOW MAJORETTE
...at Troy State University using baton skills.

Glades Day grad is college majorette

Troy State University-Kathy Ballard, a recent graduate of Glades Day School, is currently performing in the majorette corps of Troy State University's "Sound of the South" marching band.

Miss Ballard is one of 20 TSU majorettes who were selected from a field of more than 100 applicants. Troy State's majorettes are selected on the basis of their twirling and dancing ability.

"We are extremely fortunate in having Kathy as a majorette in the Sound of the South," Dr. John M. Long, TSU's Director of Bands, says.

In Belle Glade, Miss Ballard was a member of the award winning Pattonettes and Sugarland Dots. She has been studying baton for 10 years and in that time, she has won 214 trophies.
